Free iBill Talking Money Identifier for the Blind and Visually Impaired

The iBill Talking Money Identifier by Orbit Research has been selected by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing (BEP) for the U.S. Currency Reader Program. Through this program, the BEP will distribute the iBill device at no cost to eligible blind and visually impaired persons. The iBill was designed to provide the simplest, fastest and most accurate means to denominate US banknotes, the everyday task that most people take for granted, but which can be a challenge for people who are blind or visually-impaired since all denominations of US currency are the same size.

The iBills unique ergonomic design permits easy and intuitive use without the need for any specialized training or extensive practice. Upon insertion of a banknote into the device, its denomination is identified at the press of a button. Based on the user's preference, the denomination is announced by a clear and natural voice, or by tone or vibration for privacy. The unit identifies all US banknotes in circulation.

Please visit either of our office locations for an application for the free iBill Talking Money Identifier.

Identify US Currency With Your Mobile Device

EyeNote app is a free mobile device application developed by the Bureau of Printing and Engraving for people who are blind or visually impaired. It is built for the Apple iOS platform and allows users to scan Federal Reserve notes and communicate its values back to the user.

EyeNote app uses image recognition technology and the device's integrated camera to recognize bank notes and communicate the result back to the user. All current circulating notes from 1996 forward can be recognized by the app. The app is available as a free download from the Apple App Store.

IDEAL Currency Identifier For Android

BEP also assisted in the development of another app that operates on the Android platform. The IDEAL Currency Identifier is available as a free download on Google Play.
